Bruno Paillard Brut Premiere Cuvée, Champagne – A luxurious drink just because you are fabulous – Btl 59

Whites

Conde Villar Branco, Portugal 2015 – from a family run business in the North of Portugal this tropical white is a blend of native handpicked grapes growing in an area with a rich history of winemaking going as far back as the ancient Greeks – Gls 6, Btl 20

Domaine les Ronces Picpoul de Pinet, France 2015 – Domaine Gaujal, is located near Bassin de Thau, the largest of a string of lagoons, capturing the vast, French coastal zesty, fresh flavour – Gls 7, Btl 25

Suavia Soave Classico, veneto, Italy 2014 – The outcome of hard work done by the Tessari sisters, with the contribution of volcanic soil. This is everyone's dry dream – Btl 28.50

Paul Jaboulet, Crozes Hermitage Blanc Les Jalets, Rhone, France 2014 – This white will bring you summer... at least for this meal if not eternally! Fresh pear and floral aroma and a toasted almond finish – Gls 9.5 Btl 34

Rosé

Cote Rosé VDP Cotes Catalanes Domaine Lafage, Languedoc-Roussillon, France 2014 – Stay fresh with intense citrus, peach and honey flavours – Gls 7.5, Btl 25

Chilled Red

Old-vine Pale, D.O, Maule Valley, Carignan, Garnacha, Garage wine Co. Lot No. 53, 2015 – chilled red or dark rose, color perception is an ancient philosophical problem, though research proves that drinking this wine will leave you feeling fresh with strawberry scent and raspberry flavors, we conducted it ourselves – Gls. 8, Btl 35

Reds

Lagrimas de Garnacha, Navarra, Spain 2016 – Gls 6.5, Btl 22

Pasarisa Patagonia Merlot, Argentina 2015 – With flavours of spices, mint and eucalyptus, one might think Patagonia is middle eastern. Not sure you'll get to climb that mountain, so you might as well enjoy this elegant, fruity wine – Btl 24.5

Bodegas Tomas Cusine Vilosell, Spain 2015 – Magic is produced a couple of hours west of Barcelona. Mixing all that is beautiful in red with Tempranillo, Syrah, Cabernet, Merlot and Garnacha, one can only say Hola! – Gls 7.50, Btl 30

Lirac Rouge Clos de Sixte Alain Jaume Organic, Rhone, France 2014 – The hardest choice in life is between wine and chocolate. In this case, you do not have to compromise – Gls 8.5, Btl 36

Sughere di Frassinello, Tuscany, Italy 2011 – This intense red is the outcome of a collaboration between two masterminds, producing intense, well balanced red fruit flavors and floral aromas – Btl 48
